

BUSINESS

U.S. Legal Forms, Inc. (USLF) is the nation's leader in providing legal forms on the Internet. The publishing company operates www.uslegalforms.com and maintains a database of more than 36,000 state specific legal forms. USLF products are designed to assist attorneys in conducting their business more efficiently and to help consumers with common and routine legal needs. USLF is a privately held Subchapter-S Corporation.

MISSION STATEMENT

USLF strives to maintain the most accurate and varied database of legal forms on the Internet. Our goal is to be the first place legal professionals and the public will visit when seeking quality state specific legal products at an affordable price.

COMPANY PRINCIPALS

The executive officers and members of the Board of Directors of USLF are:

Frank D. Edens, Sr., President and CEO

Lem Adams, III, Vice-President

COMPANY HISTORY

Attorneys Frank D. Edens and Lem Adams, III, incorporated USLF in August of 1999. Company President and CEO Frank D. Edens developed the USLF concept based on early successes the founders had with Internet ventures geared toward the legal profession.

Prior to the formation of USLF, Frank D. Edens and Lem Adams owned LawNetCom, Inc. (LNC). In 1995, LNC began operations by constructing and maintaining the Mississippi Supreme Court's first website. LNC developed a system for the Court to publish its decisions, court rules, and other administrative information on the Internet. LNC also contracted with the Mississippi Bar, Mississippi Administrative Office of Courts and the University of Mississippi CLE Center to assist with development of Internet resources for the Mississippi legal community. LNC also developed MSlawyer.com, a website containing more than 25 legal databases and over 300 subscribers to various services offered. With a focus on wanting to serve national legal needs, Edens and Adams sold LNC and MSlawyer.com in 2002 to devote their efforts to U.S. Legal Forms, Inc.

One aspect of LNC which the founders kept was the Internet website MSlegalforms.com. The website contains more than 3,000 Mississippi legal forms and operates on a subscription basis. Keeping with their focus of serving national legal needs, in early 1998, Edens and Adams expanded the MSlegalforms.com concept and formed U.S. Legal Forms, Inc. USLF offers more than 36,000 state specific legal forms for attorneys and the public. The Company has expanded its growth from year to year through increased sales and strategic partnerships and alliances in the legal, media, and corporate arenas.

KEY FEATURES

The USLF website provides users with descriptions and previews of forms prior to purchase, allowing users to be assured of choosing the legal form best suited for their individual needs. Once a legal form is selected, customers can download it online or have it mailed to them. The website also boasts a law bookstore, handbooks and guides, as well as popular form packages, including Name Change, Divorce, Bankruptcy, Incorporation, Landlord-Tenant, Home Sales and many more. Several payment options are available including credit card and Pay-Pal. Customers may order online, by phone, fax or mail. Users who need additional assistance can call the toll free customer service number at 1-877-389-0141 or contact customer service via email. USLF prides itself in maintaining the highest level of customer service. Our 100% money back guarantee exceeds the industry standard.

U.S. Legal Forms and Court TV Partner in Web Based Legal Forms Venture

BRANDON, MS - Beginning today, visitors to CourtTV.com will not only see the latest news about high profile trials and investigations, they will also have the opportunity to download more than 36,000 state specific legal forms.

U.S. Legal Forms, Inc., the nation's leader in providing state specific legal forms over the Internet, has joined forces with Court TV, the preeminent cable channel in the investigative genre, to offer a legal form service to consumers.

"We are excited about our new alliance with Court TV. It is a significant partnership for U.S. Legal Forms and will help the Company to solidify its place as the top online destination for legal forms," says U.S. Legal Forms CEO Frank D. Edens.

Court TV's Chief Strategic Officer and GM of Court TV Online, Galen Jones, noted that "This is a natural partnership between the leading provider of legal news and information, CourtTV.com, and the leading legal forms provider. It will serve to bolster our already robust online business and provide additional legal services to CourtTV.com's significant and growing user base."

Under the terms of the agreement, U.S. Legal Forms and CourtTV.com will market the U.S. Legal Forms database to CourtTV.com users through a co-branded site, <http://courttv.uslegalforms.com>. At the website, consumers and legal professionals can browse the database, pay a small fee, and download frequently needed forms such as wills, power of attorney, and real estate instruments. The forms meet the requirements of all 50 states.

About U.S. Legal Forms, Inc.

U.S. Legal Forms, Inc. was founded by attorneys Frank D. Edens, Sr. and Lem Adams, III in 1998. The company sells legal forms and related products over the Internet to small businesses, attorneys, and the public. The website now lists more than 36,000 state specific legal forms. For more information, please visit <http://www.uslegalforms.com>.

About Courtroom Television Network, LLC

Court TV Online is the corporate umbrella for three well-established websites devoted to reality-based investigation: CourtTV.com, TheSmokingGun.com and CrimeLibrary.com. CourtTV.com is the award-winning online complement to all of Court TV's programming and features comprehensive reporting, analysis and coverage of the country's hottest legal developments. The SmokingGun.com supplies irreverent news and supporting documents to an army of devotees, regularly making headlines themselves for breaking celebrity stories. CrimeLibrary.com attracts a fervent audience as the web's premier source for in-depth stories about forensics, profiling and an ever growing list of unscrupulous and notorious characters.

Court TV - The Investigation Channel is the leader in the investigation genre, providing a window on the American system of justice through distinctive programming that both informs and entertains. Court TV telecasts trials by day and high-profile original programs like Forensic Files and popular off-network series like NYPD Blue in the evening. FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

U.S. Legal Forms, Inc. Operates Largest Legal Forms Database on the Internet

BRANDON, MS — With more than 36,000 state specific forms in its database, U.S. Legal Forms, Inc. headquartered in Brandon is fast becoming the leader in providing legal forms over the Internet.

“No other company really compares,” says CEO Frank Edens. “We are offering state specific legal documents for all 50 states to attorneys, small businesses, and the public. Those who use our website find that they can also get free previews and free law summaries.”

As more Internet users discover the availability of its extensive database, the company is continuing a steady growth in sales. U.S. Legal Forms reports sales went up 30% in the first quarter of 2004.

U.S. Legal Forms is located on the web at <http://www.uslegalforms.com>. The website includes access to legal forms which conform to the specific laws of each state in the nation. For the state of Mississippi alone, it provides more than 3,000 legal forms. Some of the most popular forms currently being downloaded are wills, power of attorney, and landlord tenant agreements. Users may download the forms in a Microsoft Word format after they place their order.

“You don’t have to re-invent the wheel every time you need to use a legal form,” says Edens. “We provide our customers quality samples to go by. They save time and money.”

Attorneys Lem Adams, III and Frank D. Edens founded U.S. Legal Forms in 1999. Both are members of the law firm Adams & Edens in Brandon, MS. In 1995, the partners formed LawNetCom, Inc., (LNC), a company that provided legal information for Mississippi lawyers and the public. LNC also constructed the initial websites of the Mississippi Supreme Court and the Mississippi Bar, as well as held seminars for the legal profession to teach them how to use the Internet. It was this initial work that got Edens thinking about the idea for a company that has now evolved into U.S. Legal Forms.

“We were exposed to the Internet early, and quickly realized that the Mississippi legal profession and public could benefit from what we were initiating. We are glad they see the merit in our product,” says Edens.

When it began, U.S. Legal Forms only had two employees and rented space from Adams & Edens law firm. The company now has more than 25 employees and is relocating its headquarters to a 27,000 square foot office building in Flowood.
